

Completed proofreading task: Flood alert

Name: _____ Class/Set: _____

Teacher's name: _____ Date: _____

All day, water levels have continyued to rise, threatning many homes.

Mr Jackson, the chief flood officer, said, "of coarse, many people are feeling anxious. And we are offerring advise and assistance wherever possible."

The floods have also caused caos across the transport sistem. Earlier today, police called the roads 'trecherus' and said that people aught to remain in their homes. some drivers' cars were underwater.

Eric Brown, an expolice officer who lives in the village, told us he could not believe how quickly the water rose. He said, "we're just relieved to be safe."

Even though there has been torrenshal rain for seveal days, it seems people recieved no offisial warning.

Acording to weather forcasters, more rain is expected this evening so the situation could possibley worsen.

Section 1 tasks summary