

Welcome to this book

The WriteWell series will help you to develop good handwriting habits. As you work through the series, you will learn how to improve your handwriting and develop your own style.

This is Book 4. Now that you can write all the lowercase letters, you are ready to learn to write capital letters and numbers.

Capital letters and numbers

Capital letters and numbers are as tall as tall letters. They are made up of straight lines, sloping lines and curves.

You will be looking at small groups of letters or numbers that are formed in a similar way. To help you learn each group, there are activities to complete. These will build your confidence until you can write the letters or numbers all by yourself.

Look carefully at the group of letters or numbers you are learning and then work through the activities. You will trace a pattern to help you get a feel for the movement before you start tracing the letters or numbers. At the end of the unit, you will practise using the letters or numbers in words, phrases and sentences.

Checking your work

When you finish a unit, look back at your work. Do your letters or numbers look like the example? Circle your best letter or number and then choose one to improve.

Before you start

Check that your body is in the correct position for writing. Ask an adult to help you.
